IT Consultant/Project Manager

Description:

Hugh L. Carey Battery Park City Authority (the "Authority") has hired Derive Technologies ("Derive") as IT consultants/project managers to oversee the restoration of the Battery Park City Community Center information technology after Superstorm Sandy. The Authority has selected the vendor due to the fact that vendor was instrumental in several aspects of the technology project at the Community Center prior to Superstorm Sandy, both as a third party vendor providing equipment, and also as a consultant configuring and installing equipment. Derive also worked with the future managers of the Community Center on aspects of the setup and configuration of the servers and other equipment as well as the IMis Intergration. This qualifies them as a single source vendor. Derive is a certified M/WBE firm and as such is qualified for a waiver from the standard Competitive Procurement Method at the Authority's discretion for any amount of services or commodities not exceeding $200,000. Additionally, Derive is also on the NYS OGS pre-approved vendor list, which ensures that Derive has been subject to the approval of the OGS procurement process and as such provides goods at competitive prices on terms that satisfy strict NYS vendor standards.
