West Thames Street Bridge

Description:

Battery Park City Authority is seeking letters of interest from qualified architecture firms to design and oversee construction of a 200-foot-long pedestrian bridge spanning State Route 9A/West Street at West Thames Street in lower Manhattan. During a lengthy feasibility phase, certain parameters were established. These include: the east approach, the west approach, the location of a center support, the structural system, and the height and width of the bridge.

Proposers will be selected on the basis of their design skill, their creativity, their experience in building pedestrian bridges in Manhattan over vehicular rights-of way (including public streets and highways), and their proven track record of designing constructible projects, working within budget and maintaining construction schedules. Proposers must also be capable of overseeing the elaborate review and permitting process that this project will require, including a full ULURP review by the City of New York.

Please submit:
